Circomat is a development of Ecomat, trader in bio-ecological building materials, when materia matter. Circomat is set up to extend this vision to where circles close.

Maintaining our conviction that natural materials are superior in keeping our earth, our buildings and its inhabitants healthier, there is no reason to waste these precious pieces of nature.

We can do better however in re-using, re-manufacturing and re-integrating even our re-growable materials before we let them decompose or have them burnt as biomass.

Circomat develops and distributes in a circular way bio-digestive and natural building materials and components. As products for sale, as products to rent and as products as a service.

If we add materials that are not natural, they will need to be very circular recuperable and reusable.

We are convinced that in this way we can remain providing customers with a bio-ecological option for materials they build their homes with.

As times change and our society changes, the need for temporary solutions that can be used for shorter periods of time and in changing constellations, will prevail. Recuperating resources like waste that is produced every day is fantastic. but we believe people shouldn't live in unbreathable boxes of recycled plastics. People should be living in urban and recycled woods.

And we are here to help our customers in surrounding themselves, in their homes or at work with healthy materials. Without having to freeze their savings in buying solutions that only prove their worth in time. Our world and the life we lead move too fast for that!

We want to free people!

- Free to choose for buy, rent or sell back
- Free to choose healthy home or office materials
- Free to choose durable but temporary solutions
- Free to be creative with our remountable components
- Free to change their place, feel, looks and technical function
- Free to choose your taste and not feel guilty

Just choose what is more suitable for you : buy , rent or sell back.

If you are a person that likes to leave options open for any possible change in your life, you might consider the buy option. Our circular products are remountable so you can just move them around, change their position, or maybe even their function. One time you make a change and reuse the product or component in another setting, the price of circularity is already paid for. But who says you will only change once?

Moreover : once you don't need the Circomat product anymore, you can always sell it to someone else. If you take care of it, the value of your investment will be almost as high as when you bought it. Isn't that why you bought a circular product in the first place?

Shops, museums or exhibitors might be attracted to the idea of renting one of our circular components. As their need for a momentary solution is high, also the technical quality and maybe the natural aspect can be searched for. Circomat offers the opportunity to make use of these products for only a short period. You need dividing walls to hang up your paintings or you want to create experience rooms that are sound proof for that art installation? You are a startup and in search for components to install a pop up store? Rent and then you can still decide to buy your window walls or fitting rooms!

Our Products As A Service (PAAS) will take care of installation, repair, refurbishment and recollection along the years to come.

You want the perfectly glossy wooden floor as a service? The best sound proof dividing wall that can follow your change of style during the years? You want a sleeping room with no radiation waves causing headaches? You move outside your rented apartment and want to take along your clayplastered wall before the landlord starts complaining?

We will develop PAAS as the market is prepared to pay a fee for not worrying about constructing or building that healthy environment. Knowing there's a company that takes care of it with healthy , natural and circular solutions. After all, most of us have other things to do!

Circomat wants to become a center of natural and circular material-flows. As we try to recuperate as much as we can, we will set up partnerships with companies that can help us refurbish anything we buy back. Workshops and Repair Centers will evidently become a full part of our loops. We will work with locally integrated partners who know how to handle recuperated materials that are present today screaming to be reused.

As we make our products as ecological as possible, we will use Urban Mining as a strategy to diminish the ecological footprint of our more custom made offerings.

Our distribution system will be based on shared lorries, water transportation alternatives, city hubs and last green mile cargo bike home deliveries.

How else could we?
